LIVRES CANADA BOOKS®

Canadian Delegation

Trade Mission to Mexico for Scholarly Publishers

August 30–September 4, 2022

Canadian Heritage | Patrimoine canadien

Apprentissage Illimité / AHA Learning

Apprentissage Illimité/AHA Learning was founded in 1995 and quickly made a name for itself by publishing educational resources that responded to the specific needs of French and French Immersion schools in Canada.

Its flagship resource, Paul et Suzanne : un modèle de francization has accompanied an entire generation of students in both français and French Immersion schools across Canada, the US, and abroad.

In 2017, Carole Freynet-Gagné, educational specialist and entrepreneur, purchased the company and continued to grow it, creating new and exciting products via a fun, play-based approach.

Today, she has assembled an amazing team of creators, illustrators, and educational specialists who develop resources for language teachers and professors. Apprentissage Illimité's goal is to continue to bring the publishing house to the international market, exploring English and Spanish as additional languages, and leave a lasting legacy based on building bridges between cultures.

Carole Freynet-Gagné
Executive Director and Owner carolefg@apprentissage.mb.ca

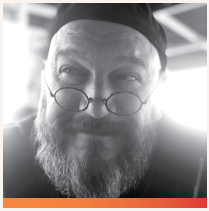
https://apprentissage.ca/

Les Presses de l'Université de Montréal

L'Université de Montréal a créé les Presses de l'Université de Montréal en 1962 dans un objectif de diffusion de la recherche. Depuis 2010, les PUM sont gérées de façon entièrement autonome : le directeur général rend compte de sa gestion à un conseil d'administration dont les membres sont nommés par l'Université. Les Presses de l'Université de Montréal (PUM) ont pour mission fondamentale de diffuser le savoir le plus largement possible et d'être au service tant du milieu universitaire que de la société en générale.

Au rythme de plus d'une cinquantaine de nouveautés par année en moyenne, les PUM ont publié à ce jour au-delà de 2100 titres et au moins autant d'auteurs. Une grande partie de cette production est encore disponible, grâce notamment au virage numérique dans lequel se sont résolument engagées les PUM il y a plusieurs années déjà. Le catalogue des PUM est tenu à jour régulièrement ; il compte plus de 925 titres actifs dont la plupart sont aussi offerts en différents formats numériques.



Patrick Poirier
Directeur général poirierp@editionspum.ca

https://www.pum.umontreal.ca/

UBCPress

University of British Columbia Press

UBC Press is Canada's leading social sciences publisher. It publishes across the social sciences, including Indigenous studies, Canadian history, environment, gender studies, law, media & communications, military history, urban planning, Asian Studies, and political science.

Laraine Coates
Assistant Director, Marketing and Business Development coates@ubcpress.ca

www.ubcpress.ca

University of Manitoba Press

University of Manitoba Press is dedicated to publishing books that combine important new scholarship with a deep engagement in the issues and events that affect our lives. Founded in 1967, UMP was the first university press established in western Canada. We are widely recognized as a leading publisher of books on Indigenous history, Indigenous studies, and Canadian history. UMP's editorial focus also includes books on the Arctic and the North; social justice, ethnic and immigration studies; Indigenous languages; literary studies, especially Indigenous literature; environment, land use, and food studies. We also publish a wide-ranging list of books on the culture and history of the prairie west.

David Larsen
Director
david.larsen@umanitoba.ca

https://uofmpress.ca

UNIVERSITY OF TORONTO PRESS

University of Toronto Press

University of Toronto Press is Canada's leading academic publisher and one of the largest university presses in North America. UTP's books are widely recognized in Canada for their strengths in history, political science, sociology, Indigenous studies, cultural studies, and business; the press is also internationally recognized for its contributions to literary and cultural studies and urban studies. In the past few years, UTP has expanded its presence in science and in trade nonfiction.

Jane Kelly
Director of Sales and Marketing jkelly@utorontopress.com

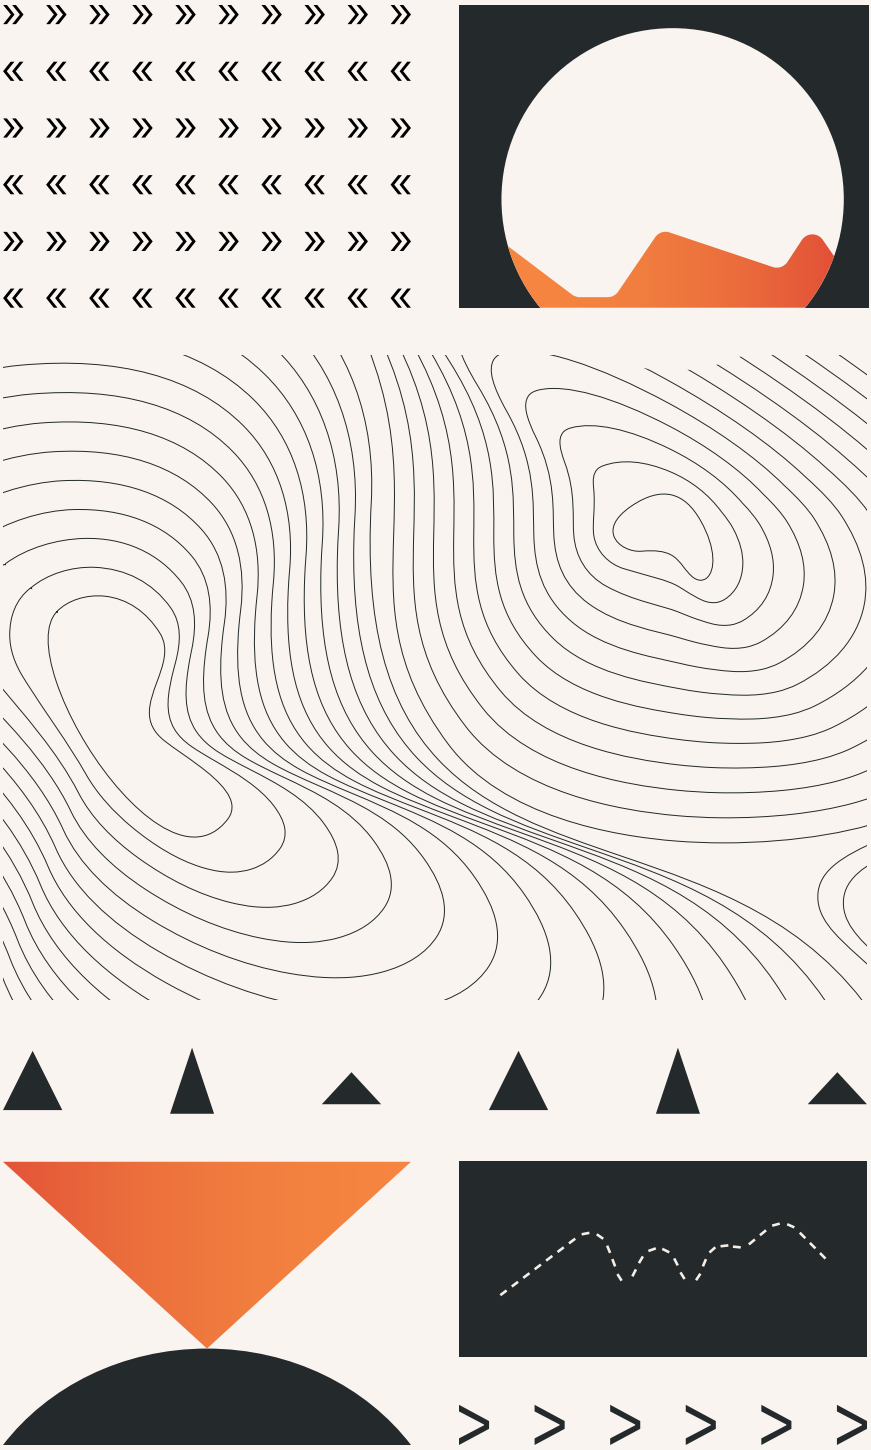
https://utorontopress.com

Wilfrid Laurier University Press

Wilfrid Laurier University Press publishes in the social sciences and humanities, work that advances new developments in scholarly discourse, contributes to education within and beyond the university, and reflects our local and global communities through the world of writing and ideas. The Press specializations in Indigenous studies, Black studies, feminism and gender studies, life writing, poetry, literary criticism, communications and media, environmental humanities, international politics and history, social work, and social justice. Founded in 1974, it has a backlist of over 1000 titles in print and digital formats. A Benetech Global Certified Accessible publisher, WLU Press is an active partner in several innovative scholarly communications and publishing research projects building infrastructure for digital scholarship, including the Amplify Podcast Network.

Lisa Quinn
Director
lquinn@wlu.ca


https://www.wlupress.wlu.ca